Bonjour,

De nombreuses entreprises paient encore des services télécoms peu optimisés, tout en faisant face à des coupures, une qualité d'appel moyenne ou un débit qui ne suit pas toujours les usages.

Dear Sir,

Given the current restructuring of power in Saudi Arabia, we believe it is prudent to reassess our investment landscape. The recent purge has consolidated power in the hands of Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman, undermining traditional governance structures.

In light of this development, we propose strategically reallocating substantial funds to viable projects/ventures outside the Kingdom. Our objective is to safeguard assets and optimize returns in a more stable environment.

If you have any promising opportunities, we are well-positioned to invest significant capital and leverage our network to drive growth. We look forward to exploring potential collaborations.

Best regards,

Al-Waleed Bin.

Dear "HEC Business Game",

We would like to bring to your attention that we are not the relevant organisation to e-mail. The Cr@ns is a student-run non-profit which deals in networks as in COMPUTER networks (the internet, and things like that, NOT business networks), we do NOT deal with anything business related and we are in all honestly not interested in your "business game". The student organisation from the École Normale Supérieure Paris-Saclay which would be most relevant for you to reach is SENS Paris-Saclay sens.paris.saclay.conseil@gmail.com, which is the Junior Enterprise of the ENS PS. On this note, we would kindly ask of you NOT to relay your communication to us in the future.

In addition, true to our spirit of fighting for digital rights, we would like to point out to you that it is NOT morally nor legally sound to subscribe people to mailing lists without their consent. It is even less sound to not provide an easy way to unsubscribe to these mailing lists in the e-mail itself (by providing a link at the end or start of the e-mail to the unsubscription page for example). As such, we would like to urge you to conform yourself to the laws of this country, and to also take this change to unsubscribe "bureau@crans.org"/"bureau@lists.crans.org" from your mailing list as we do not wish to receive further communication from you.

Regards,
Lyes Saadi,
The president of the Cr@ns

FINANCES PUBLIQUES

Déclarez en ligne vos revenus 2024.

Bonjour

Le service en ligne de déclaration des revenus 2024 est ouvert sur le site www.impots.gouv.fr et sur l'application mobile impots.gouv.

Comme l'an dernier, déclarez vos revenus en ligne !

À compter de cette année, la Direction générale des Finances publiques n'envoie plus de déclaration de revenus papier aux usagers qui ont déclaré en ligne. Participons ensemble à réduire l'empreinte environnementale.

En déclarant en ligne :

- vous êtes accompagné(e) pendant tout votre parcours, les erreurs et les oublis les plus fréquemment commis vous sont signalés pour que vous puissiez les éviter ;

- vous déclarez rapidement votre changement d'adresse si vous avez déménagé en 2024 ou en 2025 ;

- en fin de déclaration, vous connaissez l'estimation de votre impôt et du montant qu'il vous restera à payer ou qui vous sera remboursé. Dans les deux cas, vous recevrez un avis d'impôt à compter de l'été 2025 sur lequel seront rappelées les modalités de paiement ou de remboursement de votre impôt sur les revenus.

NOUVEAU : à compter du 1er septembre 2025, pour les couples mariés/pacsés, c'est votre taux individualisé de prélèvement à la source qui sera automatiquement appliqué. Vous pourrez néanmoins choisir, si vous le souhaitez, de maintenir votre taux foyer à la fin de la déclaration.

Vous avez des questions ? Pour vous informer sans vous déplacer, vous pouvez :

- consulter le site impots.gouv.fr ;

- utiliser votre messagerie sécurisée dans votre espace particulier sur impots.gouv.fr ;

- appeler le 0 809 401 401, service ouvert du lundi au vendredi de 8h30 à 19h (service gratuit + prix d'un appel local);

-- "Alone we can do so little; together we can do so much." – Helen Keller. One of the greatest gifts in life? Watching the people around you grow. {Click to Tweet}.

In last week's Ten on One, my Coppola Cheney partner Andrew Cheney interviewed his longtime friend Michael Kosta—a former tennis player turned comedian and now author. What stood out most in their conversation was the deep respect and shared history between them.

That's the power of lasting relationships. When you're in it for the long haul, you get a front-row seat to someone's journey—the ups and downs, the pivots, the breakthroughs. And if you're doing it right, they get to see you grow, too.

-- Stick around long enough to witness the evolution.

-- Be the one who encourages, challenges, and shows up.

-- Celebrate the wins—big or small—together.

This is what makes the journey matter. Long-term relationships aren't just meaningful—they're essential to living a Fantastic Life. Make sure to check out the Ten on One video below. It is a great one! Next week we will send part 2, and we will hear Kosta talk about failure.

-- Last week, after 41 years working together, Jim Watkins and I closed our last deal. We closed our first deal together in 1984. In 2020, I wrote a tribute to Jim and the true mentor he has been (you can read it here). {Click to Tweet}

Today, I'm reflecting on both that first deal, this last deal, and how our far relationship has come since we started working together. In that first deal, I was a complete idiot and almost killed it completely. Only Jim's skills made it happen. And this last deal comprises a land sale with a client we have shared for 25 years.

Jim is still making a difference in the world, just not in Commercial real estate. He had a wonderful career and we are having lunch next week to celebrate. I have a more important reason; I, once again, want to tell him THANK YOU. Jim, you helped make my career AND my life. I wanted to share the below poem that is appropriate here. If there's any wisdom I would pass on from my relationship with Jim, it would be this:

- Find mentors. Maybe you'll get lucky and find one as good as Jim.
- Learn from them.
- Tell them thank you...over and over again.

It took me a long time to understand mentor relationships are all about the journey. What a fantastic career, Jim. Well done.
